

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Episcopal Church at Cape May to Benefit by Fete Given at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Eugene Smith on Beach Avenue Next Saturday—Other Matters

OF COURSE you know the Church of the Advent in Cape May, the only Episcopal church that is open all the year round? It is the most charming, quaint little place and many of the Philadelphians who go down there for the summer attend the church and their children sing in the choir. They all love it, and it is supported, entirely by the summer people. They own the whole property now, and are going to have a garden party and fete for the benefit of the parish funds next Saturday, August 3. It is to be held at Mrs. Horace Eugene Smith's house on Beach avenue, and there will be movies, and Johnson's Band to play for dancing, and all kinds of interesting stunts. It is to start at 10 in the morning and end at 10 in the evening. Mrs. Smith is chairman of the committee in charge, and others who are much interested in it are Mrs. Curtis Patterson, Mrs. James Neils, Mrs. William Drayton Grange, Mrs. Henry Patton, Mrs. George Crozer, Mrs. Howard Hancock and Mrs. T. Mitchell Hastings and a number of other people who are spending the summer down there and love the picturesque little old church. So if by any chance you are going down that week-end, or happen to be in the neighborhood at that time, don't fail to stop in, because it sounds as if it's going to be awfully attractive.

THE old Johnson house in Germantown, which has been through about all the wars we ever had, is gathering more memories and traditions during this one. You know it is the headquarters for the Woman's Club out there, and there is a lot of work being done there all the time, and every Tuesday the patriotic committee, under the direction of Mrs. Edward V. Kane, entertains a number of convalescent sailors from the Naval Hospital. Some of the committee who have cars lend them for the day, and the men are taken out for a ride through the Park, if they want it, or they can sit around the attractive house and play the virolo or work jigsaw puzzles or write letters or postal cards, which are provided, to "mothers, wives or sweethearts," or just sit—and a good many of them are delighted to "just sit"—and watch the time go past. Supper is served out in the garden, which is awfully pretty now, with the hollyhocks against the white fence, which has the Revolutionary bullet holes in it. Each week there are different hostesses. Last week they were Mrs. W. Beaumont Whitney, Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. C. S. Underwood and Mrs. George Harris, and, of course, they have other people to help them receive the men and entertain them. Next Tuesday the hostesses will be Mrs. William Moxley and Mrs. C. Goodell. There were twenty men last week, most of whom were recovering from pneumonia and typhoid fever, and one week they had a man who had been a gunner's mate on a battleship and had lost an arm. It sounds like awfully interesting work, and it must give the men a wonderful amount of pleasure.

IT'S hard on the practical joker, of course, but there never was a better time to get married than now for the bride and bridegroom. Rice is going up steadily, so is leather, and paper is very scarce. With this in mind, where is the man who is daring enough to throw rice or old shoes or even confetti on the fleeing bride and her protecting groom?

It always was a vulgar way of doing anyhow, wasn't it? And it meant untold embarrassment and suffering to the principals in the little game. Speaking of wedding pranks, listen to this week tale I have to tell. At a wedding at which the principals thereto are known to you and me and the doc there were two young ushers who determined that there should be no "getaway" on the part of the poor young pair if they could help it. Well, in spite of them, He and She, being aided by their best man and maid of honor, slipped down the back way and slid into an extra car which had been provided. The only trouble about it all was that they had to go out the side way past the waiting bridal party on the front lawn, for it was early summer and they were out of doors. Well, my dears, they did beautifully out and were just going past when a bridesmaid caught sight of them trying to hide in the tounge of the car, and with one whoop she started the whole pack after the car. Two of the ushers reached the side steps and clung on for dear life. They were well on their way to the station, but still those men hung on. It was a 6 o'clock wedding and they wore dress suits. Well, the bridesroom by this time began to use his brains and he neatly leaned out of the side and caught the coat tail of his brother-in-law and pulled as hard as he could, when, zip-zip-zip! the tail ripped off as nicely as you please and a much disconcerted young usher detached himself from that car at the station, minus one tail of his coat, and he and his fellow-in-crime were obliged to ride back to the scene of the wedding on a trolley car for it was in the country and no taxis were available. Without hats and with one coat tail missing. It wasn't so funny as it started out to be, for them, that is; but the bride and groom had a fine time laughing over the fact that they had got away without any rice or old shoes and had added a single coat tail to their baggage.

NANCY WYNNE.

Social Activities

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curtis Harrison, Jr., of Rittenhouse Square and Devon, are at the Farragut, Rye Beach, N. H., to remain until August 12.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Childs Drexel have left Bryn Mawr and gone to their house in North Islesboro, Me.

Mr. Frederick C. Durant has gone to Great Barrington, Mass., for several weeks.

Mrs. Daniel M. Harrington, of Chestnut lane, Haverford, has gone out West, where she will spend some time visiting her sister.

Mrs. Richard McCall Elliott, of 1494 De-

Lancey street, who is visiting in Pomfret, Mass., will later go to Murray Bay for the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. James Winsor, of Haverford, has gone to Dark Harbor, Me., for the summer.

Mrs. George S. Robbins, of Haverford, has gone to Bar Harbor, Me., for the summer.

Mrs. Theobald F. Clark, of Baltimore, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Charles W. Nevill, of 2921 Locust street.

Miss Mary Ingham is spending two months in Randolph, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walz, of Overbrook, are at their summer home, Eggenoshan, Little Pier Island, Me.

Mrs. Ralph Stewart, of Lansdowne, entertained yesterday at luncheon and bridge at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan have returned from their wedding trip and have taken an apartment at Fifteenth and Locust streets. Mrs. Morgan, before her wedding two weeks ago, was Mrs. Edgar Fortherton.

Judge and Mrs. Eugene C. Bonnell have taken the Logan M. Bullitt house at Torredale for the summer.

Dr. Robert H. Dunnington has gone to California to remain at the Hotel Washington, San Francisco, until the middle of August.

Mr. W. H. Arrott has left for Mount Kisco Hotel, Kineo, Me., to stay until September 18.

Mrs. Mary Darlington is staying at Cedar Club, Ocean View, Del., until the middle of next month.

Mrs. Harrison J. Gill is staying at Pocono Inn, Pocono Manor, Pa., for several weeks.

The Captains' Association of the Girl Scouts will give a picnic at White Oak on Saturday afternoon to a number of sailors from League Island. This association, which includes a membership of more than 300 girls, will also give a picnic to the members of every Girl Scout troop in the Philadelphia Division.

During the last winter a number of dances were given at the service, and the success of these affairs has led the committee to plan this more attractive form of hot-weather entertainment. About forty of the most popular officers will attend the picnic, and the same number of sailors have been invited. Arrangements for the party have been made by Miss Bertha Green, president of the association, assisted by Miss Dorothy Neal, Miss John Martin and Mrs. Victor Lavelle, the local director.

Dr. Russell Bowles, U. S. N., and Mrs. Bowles of Overbrook, will leave for the city today to spend a ten-day leave at Lake Placid, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McNeely.

Dr. and Mrs. W. T. S. Wentz and their daughter, Miss Agnes Wentz, have closed their home in Media, and are now living out on their farm near the Rose Tree Hunt for the summer.

Miss Frances Lodge, of 117 South Eighteenth street, who has been spending the last week in New York, will leave the city today to spend the remainder of the summer at Ocean City.

Mrs. Robert Hunter and her two little daughters, Miss Laura Hunter and Miss Virginia Hunter, who have been spending the winter at El Paso, Tex., are now living in Tennessee, to be near Lieutenant Hunter, M. O. B. C., who is stationed at a southern camp. Miss Hunter will spend the summer at Miss Helen North, daughter of Mrs. Laura North, of South Broad street.

Friends of Lieutenant Paul Edling, U. S. B., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Edling, of Overbrook, will be glad to hear of his safe arrival in France.

Miss Jean Edelman has returned to her home, 23 South Twenty-first street, after spending the last week visiting in Phoenixville.

Miss Salome Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Allen, of Frankford avenue, left the city on Thursday for an extended visit to Springfield, Mass.

Sergeant Edward B. Brooks, U. S. A., and Mrs. Brooks, of the Frankford Arsenal, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, Bernice Bell Brooks.

The agents of the Equitable Assurance Company were entertained all day yesterday at the Philmont Country Club through the hospitality of the committee. There were golf, tennis and baseball matches during the day, and dinner was served. Mr. Taylor, of New York, vice president of the company, was present, and the committee were Mr. Foster, Mr. Levy and Mr. McCarthy.

Friends of Corporal Howard T. Clasen will be glad to hear that he has been received of his safe arrival overseas.

SERVICE FLAG TO BE RAISED AT FESTIVAL THIS EVENING

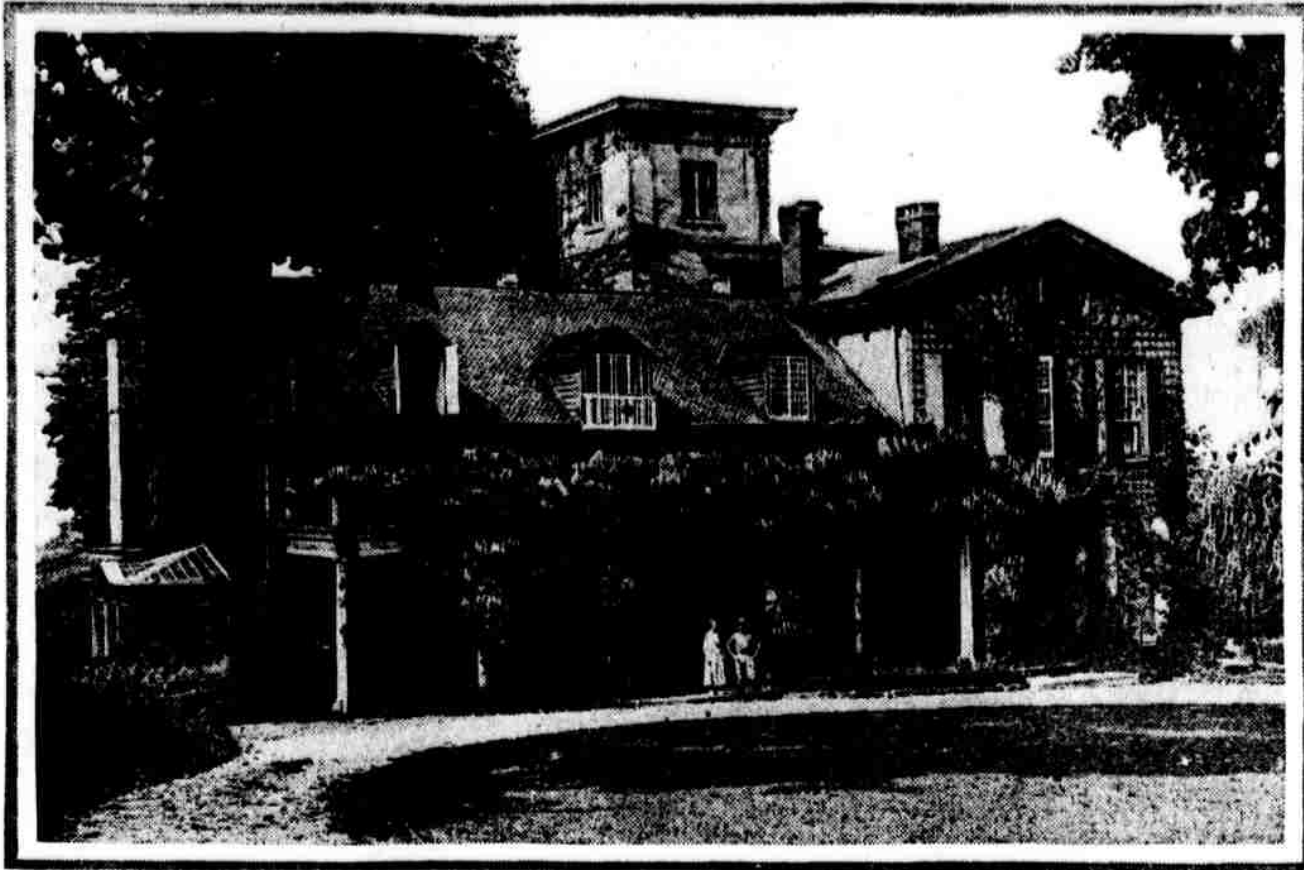

Twenty-four Blue Stars and One Red Star for Men and Woman in Service

A summer night's festival will be given this evening in the 1200 block of St. Paul street by the members of the Josephine Francis group of the Navy Auxiliary of the Red Cross. The carnival will be opened at 7 o'clock by the unfurling of a service flag containing the letters C. S. in twenty-four blue stars for the men of the block who are in the service and a red star in between for Miss Margaret Gallagher, who has enlisted as a yeoman for four years' service. There will be fancy articles and refreshments for the children, a candy-gurdy and automobiles will be among the special attractions. The proceeds will be divided between the navy auxiliary and the fund of the organization for work among the sailors and marines.

The blue stars in the flag represent Mr. Robert Bancher, Mr. Edward Meehan, Mr. Leo Meehan, Mr. James Grimes, Mr. Frederick Kueck, Mr. Hugh Wrigley, Mr. Edmund Wrigley, Mr. Harry Allen, Mr. Charles Foley, Mr. Raymond Price, Mr. John Egan, Mr. Gerald Egan, Mr. Orville Marshall, Mr. Joseph Miller, Mr. Charles McGeehan, Mr. Charles McGeehan, Mr. Charles Brady, Mr. Thomas Brady, Mr. Charles Brady, Mr. Charles Miller, Mr. Walter Hinkle, Mr. Raymond Schell, Mr. Irwin Felix and Mr. George Mackenzie.

Among those having the entertainment in charge are Mrs. Priscilla Wrigley, chairman; Mrs. Elwood Bevan, Miss Genevieve Elser, Mrs. Margaret Gallagher, Mrs. John Elser, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Miss Helen Moley, Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, Miss Gladys Ziegler, Miss Marie Prior, Miss Nellie McSheehan, Miss Katharine McKeehan, Mrs. Edward Rieber, Mrs. Mary E. Wrigley, Miss Anna Wrigley, Miss Ethel Meehan, Miss Ruth McKeehan, Miss Gertrude Flynn, Miss Mary Laughlin, Miss Martha Graham, Miss Margaret Hillman, Miss Alice McKeehan, Miss Laura Reeves, Miss Kathryn Rardon, Miss Alice Hanes, Miss Ella Mard, Miss Margaret McLaughlin, Mrs. W. Ingram, Miss Katharine Smith, Miss Marie Howard, Miss Mary Gallagher, Miss Anna Gallagher, Miss Anna Moley, Miss Agnes McKeehan, Miss Mary Murray, Miss Mildred Needham, Miss Katharine Gallagher, Miss May Donohue and Miss Margaret McKeehan.

HOME OF MRS. MONCURE ROBINSON

The home of Mrs. Moncure Robinson, of Paoli, which, with a staff of servants, has been given over to Captain Sullivan, U. S. M. C., and his officers, who are stationed at the marine camp out there.

PAOLI AND MALVERN ARE AT DISPOSITION OF THE MARINES

Society Folk Eager to Entertain and Provide Comfort for Men Who Are Training at Large Suburban Camp—Mr. and Mrs. Rosengarten Give Swimming Pool

SOCIALLY prominent Philadelphians who have summer homes in the Malvern, Paoli and Green Tree sections have certainly done everything in their power to make things pleasant for the officers and enlisted men stationed at the marine corps camp near Paoli.

Not only have they thrown their homes open to the sea-soldiers, arranged motor trips, dances and amateur theatricals for their benefit, but they have provided the camp with fresh vegetables and, finally, on going away for short vacations, have even turned over their estates for the use of the corps.

Mrs. Moncure Robinson, who it will be remembered was formerly Miss Lydia Biddle, has a wonderful old place a few miles to the north of Paoli and not far from the camp. It was built in Revolutionary days and has thick walls and spacious rooms of that period.

Mrs. Robinson lent the house, completely furnished and equipped with a staff of servants, to Captain William B. Sullivan, of the marine corps. Captain Sullivan's house was hastily summoned to run the establishment and Captain Sullivan asked several of his pals to live with him. They could not leave, comfortably, because it was a great relief to get away, if only for the night from the heat and dust of the camp.

Rosengartens Give Swimming Pool
Then Mr. and Mrs. George D. Rosengarten, whose estate, Hillside, not far from Malvern, has been the scene of many social parties, gave permission to the marines to use their fine private swimming pool and on going away for a trip arranged that the pool be kept in order for their use during the summer.

Among other who take the greatest interest in providing for the material comfort of the men as well as seeing to it that they have proper social relaxation, is Mrs. William Biddle Cadwalader, whose husband, Dr. William B. Cadwalader, is now in France with the medical corps of General Pershing's army.

Mrs. Cadwalader, who is spending the summer at Rosedale, the beautiful home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams Biddle, near Malvern, has been very kind in giving the marines and their families, have decided to pick the garden "sauce" when it is ripe.

Feeding Problem Up to Wald
This problem of feeding the camp, by the way, is a difficult one to solve and Gunter Wald, who is in charge of the camp, is a very busy man. He has a large staff of men and women, and he is constantly busy with the problem of feeding the camp. He has a large staff of men and women, and he is constantly busy with the problem of feeding the camp.

The boys at this Paoli camp, however, are all picked men and they have given the provost guard no trouble so far, with one exception. There have been some minor offenses committed and the guardhouse has stood empty for a month. The one exception was a serious offense, which the camp authorities decided to punish, it being the custom of the marines to keep their "family affairs" strictly to themselves.

The boys at this Paoli camp, however, are all picked men and they have given the provost guard no trouble so far, with one exception. There have been some minor offenses committed and the guardhouse has stood empty for a month. The one exception was a serious offense, which the camp authorities decided to punish, it being the custom of the marines to keep their "family affairs" strictly to themselves.

The boys at this Paoli camp, however, are all picked men and they have given the provost guard no trouble so far, with one exception. There have been some minor offenses committed and the guardhouse has stood empty for a month. The one exception was a serious offense, which the camp authorities decided to punish, it being the custom of the marines to keep their "family affairs" strictly to themselves.

The boys at this Paoli camp, however, are all picked men and they have given the provost guard no trouble so far, with one exception. There have been some minor offenses committed and the guardhouse has stood empty for a month. The one exception was a serious offense, which the camp authorities decided to punish, it being the custom of the marines to keep their "family affairs" strictly to themselves.

RED CROSS NURSES ARE COMMANDED FOR VALOR

Work With Calm While German Raiders' Bombs Burst All Around

The following commendation of American Red Cross nurses and nurses' aides and other workers for bravery during the air raids on B— is taken from a report received here from Julia C. Stinson, chief nurse, American Red Cross in France.

"Major Moorehead, commanding officer of hospital No., said he could not speak too highly of the efficiency of the nurses. He made special mention of their bravery at the time of air raids. He particularly mentioned the excellent work of Miss Turnbull, the nurse in charge, and felt that special praise should be given to Miss Elvynne Price, of the hospital No., who gave ether with the greatest calm, all during the night of May 25, when bombs were cracking all around the hospital.

"He spoke particularly, too, of the attention to duty and bravery of Miss Louise Biddle, of Columbus, O., and Miss Constance Cooke, of Berkeley, Cal., nurses; and Miss Stephen, Miss Harte and Miss Elvynne, nurses, all of whom were on duty at this hospital that harrowing night.

"Major Murphy reported bravery on the part of Miss Natalie Scott, a nurse's aide, on the night when B— was so horribly raided. One wing of the hospital was struck and several buildings adjacent completely demolished. Almost all the windows were shattered. In an annex nearby were several American patients who had been part of Miss Scott's responsibility.

"Immediately after the bomb fell and destroyed the intervening houses, Miss Scott in the pitch darkness, crawled over the pile of bricks and broken timbers and made her way into the annex to see how her patients were, and to reassure them. A few days later, during another raid, Miss Scott, although completely worn out, remained day and night at the side of a dying American patient.

TO WED LIEUTENANT OF AVIATION TODAY

Marriage of Miss Edith Baily and Lieutenant Magruder Dent in Bryn Mawr

The wedding of Miss Edith Baily, daughter of Mr. Frederick L. Baily, of Ardmore, and Lieutenant Magruder Dent, aviation section, United States army, will be solemnized at 6 o'clock this evening in the church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr. The bride will be attended by her sister, Mrs. T. Mitchell Hastings, as matron of honor, and by Miss Winifred Clarke as maid of honor, and by Mrs. Nicholas Biddle, the best man, and by Lieutenant Ralph Baily and the ushers will include Lieutenant Lawrence Gourley, Mount Kisco, N. Y.; Captain Herbert H. Lawrence, of New York; Captain James S. Malool, of Harrisburg; Lieutenant Colonel of Alexandria, Va.; Mr. Ralph P. Seale, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. Philip K. Baily, of Washington, and Captain T. Mitchell Hastings. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Calvin Carter, rector of the church.

The bride will wear white tulle and carry white lace, with a tulle veil, and will carry white roses and lilies of the valley. All the attendants will wear pale yellow and blue organdy with hats to match, and will carry delphiniums. The wedding will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's father.

USUAL NUMBER OF MASCOTS
Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

Also the usual crop of mascots and pets has been picked up, including a kitten that loves to fight dogs, a bulldog that only likes to chew sticks, a dog of uncertain ancestry that is always putting its head in the bushes, a fox terrier of a haughty and aloof disposition that declines to mingle with the other animals, and a small dog that is always putting its head in the bushes.

WOMAN'S PARTY SALE TODAY

Proceeds Will Be Used to Distribute Official Organ

A cake, candy and ice cream sale, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania branch of the National Woman's party, was held this afternoon at the corner of Oxford road and Footroad street, Frankford. The chairman of the committee in charge of the sale was Mrs. James Shaw, and among the members of the committee were Mrs. Anne Klempke, B. Aronson and Miss Anna McNeely. Miss McNeely will speak at an evening open-air meeting.

Proceeds of the sale will go toward the fund for placing the official organ of the National Woman's party in public libraries and in the hands of State and national legislators.

Appointed to Municipal Positions
The following appointments of municipal employees was announced today by the Civil Service Commission: Blanche A. Noms, 6028 Sanson street, city nurse, $300 a year; and Georgiana Taylor, 1533 Catherine street, bathhouse nation, $2.20 a day.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening. The band was led by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season in the Red Cross center service. Mr. Frederick H. Scott and Mrs. J. P. H. Scott, who have been in training at the military school, were present at the White Sulphur Springs camp at 6 o'clock this evening.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 27.—A military note was sounded at White Sulphur Springs when the White Sulphur Springs military band was introduced for the summer season